PSALM 39

I SAID, I will take heed to my ways, that I sin not with my tongue: I will keep my mouth with a bridle, while the wicked is before me.

I was dumb with silence, I held my peace, even from good; and my sorrow was stirred.

My heart was hot inside of me, while I was musing the fire burned: then spoke I with my tongue,

Lord, make me to know my end, and the measure of my days, what it is; that I may know how frail I am.

Behold, you have made my days as a handbreadth; and my age is as nothing before you: every adamite at his best state is altogether vanity.

Surely every man walks in a vain show: surely they are disquieted in vain: he heaps up riches, and knows not who shall gather them.

And now, Lord, what wait I for? my confidence is in you.

Deliver me from all my transgressions: make me not the reproach of the foolish.

I was dumb, I opened not my mouth; because you did it.

Remove your stroke away from me: I am consumed by the blow of your hand.

When you with rebukes do instruct man for iniquity, you make his beauty to consume away like a moth: surely every adamite is vanity.

Hear my prayer, O YAHWAH, and give ear unto my cry; hold not your peace at my tears: for I am a stranger with you, and a sojourner, as all my fathers were.

O spare me, that I may recover strength, before I go hence, and be no more.

This concludes Psalm 39.
