PSALM 77

I CRIED unto the ELOHEEM with my voice, unto the ELOHEEM with my voice; and he gave ear unto me.
In the day of my trouble I sought the Lord: my sore ran in the night, and ceased not: my person refused to be comforted.

I remembered the ELOHEEM, and was troubled: I complained, and my spirit was overwhelmed.

You hold my eyes waking: I am so troubled that I cannot speak.

I have considered the days of old, the years of ancient times.

I call to remembrance my song in the night: I commune with my own heart: and my spirit made diligent search.

Will the Lord cast off forever? and will he be favourable no more?

Is his mercy clean gone forever? does his promise fail forever?

Has God forgotten to be gracious? has he in anger shut up his tender mercies?

And I said, This is my infirmity: but I will remember the years of the right hand of the most High.

I will remember the works of YAHWAH: surely I will remember your wonders of old.

I will meditate also of all your work, and talk of your doings.

Your way, O ELOHEEM, is in the sanctuary: who is so great a God as the ELOHEEM?

You are the God that do wonders: you have declared your strength among the people.

You have with your arm redeemed your people, the sons of Jacob and Joseph.

The waters saw you, O ELOHEEM, the waters saw you; they were afraid: the deep also was troubled.

The clouds poured out water: the skies sent out a sound: your arrows also went abroad.

The voice of your thunder was in the heaven: the Lightnings lightened the World: the land trembled and shook.

Your way is in the sea, and your path in the great waters, and your footsteps are not known.

You led your people like a flock by the hand of Moses and Aaron.

This concludes Psalm 77.
