

OUR DEADLY WEAPON

In 1976 YAHWAH God led me to establish the N.E.W.S. Party. From June of 1976 until the end of December of 1979 I published "The Battle Ax" which was the official organ of N.E.W.S. and had subscribers all over the world. At that time YAHWAH told me to end it all and from 1980 to 2010 I did nothing in the public forum, but after 30 years He told me to build a website and TruthFromGod.com went active in 2011. Many of the old messages published in "The Battle Ax" appear on this website and the following is one of them. What was said then should be more apparent now and for this reason the following is presented. "OUR DEADLY WEAPON" - published in "The Battle Ax" - Issue 126, February, 1979.

The enemies of the White Race are very knowledgeable about the forces that can be used against them, and how effective each one is. It is only possible for the alien foes to continue their progressive enslavement of White Western Man because our race ignorantly neglects its most deadly weapon. No plan conceived by the "conservative, patriotic, right-wing" will ever succeed as long as this SUPER weapon is ignored.

Because of alien enemy infiltration, each patriotic group has been side-tracked and their attention has been focused on all types of diplomatic ploys which have been completely barren of fruit. The Jew has managed to control all sides of any question, thereby controlling its outcome.

Ten years ago I began to fight against the unconstitutionality of the Income Tax, and the I.R.S. illegal activities. Now tax revolt has become popular, and subsequently the Jew now leads all national tax revolt movements. Myself, and many other men of conviction, have all served time in prison because we refused to bow down to the tax tyrants. We gained no national recognition for our years of sacrifice, and the public remains ignorant about our efforts. However, since public sentiment is against the confiscatory taxation policies of the alien controlled government, the Jew media gives wide acclaim to its own cohorts as the leaders of the tax revolt in America. None of them have ever served a day in jail, and they were nowhere to be found in the tax revolt 2 years ago.

The power of the media is used time and time again to set up contorted puppets in every issue, it heralds them as great leaders, and the gullible populace blindly follow them into the ditch - for no victories are ever won which will benefit the white working citizens of America. Soon every such struggle against government tyranny dies because each success is sabotaged, and frustration then replaces zeal. The latter state of affairs is worse than the former, for the people subconsciously feel that nothing can be done, and they are sensitized against any further attempt to extract the white race from the colored quicksand which is slowly engulfing it into its deadly depths. The tragedy of the situation is further heightened because in this life and death conflict the white race does not use the only weapon that will bring Victory. There are various excuses given as to why the weapon cannot be used, but all are only the skins of reasons stuffed with lies provided by the alien, non-white powers who control our nation.

Think for a moment! What was it that made our nation different from all others? What were the principles that guided the American Revolution? In the November, 1978 issue #123 of "The Battle Ax" was an article entitled "The Secret Of The American Story" which gave specific quotations from the early constitutions of the American Colonies. Each colony required every public office holder to be a Christian, profess faith in God the Father, Jesus Christ, and acknowledge the Holy Scriptures of the Old and New Testament to be given by Divine inspiration. These founders of our nation knew who they were in God's plan, what He expected of them, and that strict adherence to His laws was the only way to Victory.

These men of destiny were accustomed "to consider the highest glory of the American Revolution," as stated by John Quincy Adams in that "it connected, in one indissoluble bond, the principles of civil government with the principles of Christianity." During the struggle of 1776 the Continental Congress ordered the committee of commerce to import 20,000 copies of the Bible, which was to be used as the great political textbook of the patriots. In a message to the Council and House of Representative of the State of Massachusetts, at Boston, May 27, 1778, Phillips Payson stated, "The slavery of a people is generally founded in ignorance of some kind or another; and there are not wanting such facts as absolutely prove the human mind may be so sunk and debased, through ignorance and its natural effects, as even to adore its enslaver, and kiss its chains. Hence knowledge and learning may well be considered as most essentially requisite to a free, righteous government. Civil and religious liberty are so inter-related that the latter is considered as a sure pledge of the former; and therefore all good men, all true believers, are the children of God's promise. This religious or spiritual liberty must be accounted the greatest happiness of man. Hence a people formed upon the morals and principles of the gospel are capacitated to enjoy the highest degree of civil liberty, and will really enjoy it, unless prevented by force or fraud. We stand this day upon Pisgah's top, the children of Israel, the descendants of a pious race, who from the love of liberty, and the fear of God, spent their treasure and spilt their blood." When Jonathan Trumbull was elected as governor of Connecticut, Ezra Stiles, president of Yale, delivered the following address at the swearing in ceremonies on May 8, 1783. "And to make thee high above all nations which He hath made, in praise, and in name, and in honor; and that thou mayest be an holy people unto the Lord thy God. Deuteronomy 24:19 I have assumed the text only as introductory to a discourse upon the political welfare of God's American Israel, and as allusively prophetic of the future prosperity and splendor of the United States. Moses the man of God assembled 3 million people, the number of the United States during the revolutionary struggle. Our degree of population is such as to give us reason to expect that this will become a great people. Should this prove a future fact, how applicable would be the text, when the Lord shall have made His American Israel high above all nations which He has made, in numbers, and in praise, and in name, and in honor! We have sustained a force brought against us which might have made any empire on earth to tremble; and yet our bow has abode in strength, and, having obtained help of God, we continue unto this day. Every patriot trembled till we had proved our armour, till it could be seen whether this hasty concourse was susceptible of exercitival arrangement, and could face the enemy with firmness. They early gave us the decided proof of this in the memorable battle of Bunker Hill. We were satisfied. Whereupon Congress put at the head of this spirited army the only man on whom the eyes of all Israel were placed. Posterity, I apprehend, and the world itself, inconsiderate and incredulous as they may be of the dominion of Heaven, will yet do so much justice to the divine moral government as to acknowledge that this American Joshua was raised up by God, and divinely formed, by a peculiar influence of the Sovereign of the universe, for the great work of leading the armies of this American Joseph. And who can tell how extensive a blessing this American Joseph may become to the whole human race? How applicable that in Genesis 49:22,26; 'Joseph is a fruitful bough, even a fruitful bough by a well; whose branches run over the wall. The archers have sorely grieved him, and shot at him, and hated him. But his bow abode in strength; the arms of his hands were made strong by the arms of the mighty God of Jacob. The blessings of thy father have prevailed above the blessings of my progenitors, unto the utmost bound of the everlasting hill; they shall be on the head of Joseph, and on the crown of the head of him that was separated from his brethren.' It was of the Lord to send Joseph into Egypt, to save much people, and to show forth His praise. It is of the Lord that 'a woman clothed with the sun, and the moon under her feet', and upon 'her head a crown of twelve stars', should 'flee into the wilderness, where she hath a place prepared of God', and where she might be the repository of wisdom, and 'keep the commandments of God, and have the testimony of Jesus.' It may have been of the Lord that Christianity is to be found in such greater purity in this Israel people exiled into the wildernesses of America, and that its purest body should be evidently advancing forward, by an augmented natural increase and spiritual edification, into a singular superiority, with the ultimate subserviency to the glory of God in converting the world, all which will terminate in this conclusion: that holiness ought to be the end of all civil government - 'that thou mayest be an holy people unto the Lord thy God.' Shall the Most High send down truth into this world from the world of light and truth, and shall the rulers of this world be afraid of it? Shall there be no intrepid Daniels, - great in magistracy, great in religion? How great was that holy man, that learned and pious civilian, when he shone in the supreme triumvirate at the head of an empire of one hundred and twenty provinces, venerable for political wisdom, venerable for religion! If men, not merely nominally Christians, but of real religion and sincere piety, joined with abilities, were advanced and called up to office in every civil department, how would it countenance and recommend virtue! But, alas! is there not too much Laddiceanism in this land? Is not Jesus in danger of being wounded in the house of his friends? Whenever religion is erected on the ruins of civil government, and when civil government is built on the ruins of Christian religion, both are so far essentially wrong. But I must desist, with only observing that the United States are under peculiar obligations to become a holy people unto the Lord our God, on account of the late eminent deliverance, salvation, peace, and glory with which He hath now crowned our new sovereignty."

In the beginnings of New England it is recorded that "the men who undertook this work were not at all free from selfconsciousness. They believed that they were doing a wonderful thing. They felt themselves to be the instruments in accomplishing a manifest destiny. Their exodus was that of a chosen people who were at length to lay the everlasting foundations of God's kingdom upon earth." These, our noble ancestors, were well aware that they were the true chosen people of God, and the descendants of the ancient Israelites. They knew that their Heavenly Father had a great work for them to do in laying the foundations for His Kingdom upon earth in this new American nation. Their guidebook for such a sublime task was the Holy Bible, for in its pages was the sacred wisdom of the ages which would lead them down the pathway of true civil liberty, a righteous government built upon God's divine law.

On February, 24, 1857 at the services at the Capitol, from the backwoods of Tennessee Rev. F.E. Pitts appeared and spoke to an enthroned gathering in the great hall of the Capitol. Mr. Pitts unfolded from prophecies, both of the Old and New Testaments, America's place in the Bible. In this message Rev. Pitts pointed out that "The United States of America is the nationality that is promised in the prophetic Scriptures to arise in the latter times as Israel Restored." He then offered 15 proofs as to America's Israel Identity which was backed up by copious scriptural references.

Because of the peoples' keen religious, Biblical understanding, it is no wonder that in 1892 the United States Supreme Court in the case of "Trinity Church v. US" 143. U.S. 471 declared that "America is a Christian nation." Compare this with what is happening today. Since Jew money has placed aliens in power, the government and its corrupt court system has banned the Bible, prayer, and all other references to our God and Jesus Christ from all public institutions. What other book has been so banned? Even the singing of Christmas carols is an affront to these Christ-hating aliens. Why? Because they know what made our white forefathers courageously rise up and throw off the shackles of a tyrannical government. These aliens know that when whites are inspired with the spirit of their God, and guided by the Holy Scriptures, that this current national darkness will be dispelled by the dawning of a new day. A day of righteous government administering the law of God, a day which will bring the end to alien usurped power, their reign of terror, and the beginning of peace and prosperity for white western man beyond his greatest expectations.

There is only one weapon which we can use that will destroy the enemy, it is a super weapon, it is the truth of God's word. It will only be deadly to the aliens when all white people once again are filled with its knowledge, inspired by its principles, establish its divine laws, and erect the righteous government of the Kingdom of God. Two hundred years ago our forefathers laid its foundation stones, mortared together with their sacrifices of treasure and blood. Now is the time for us, their posterity, to build further. The blueprint for this glorious task lay before us. We must take it up, study its pages, apply its specifications, and go forth in its construction. All the materials are here, but will remain in scattered disarray until the master plan is utilized. The hour is late, and thieves scheme to take over everything, dreaming of their Synagogue of Satan which they will soon erect. We must take up our weapon, the Master's plan, and show our white people that it is the Supreme Solution that will lead to VICTORY. It is our deadly weapon. What was said then should be more apparent now.
